THE CONVENTION IS OVER

Most Profitable in the History of the Organization.

YESTERDAY'S SESSIONS

Delegates Speak in Warm Terms of the Cordiality of Their Reception in Butte—Union Sunday Schools—Officers Elected for the Next Year.

The eighth annual convention of the State Sunday School association came to a close at the Auditorium at 10:30 o'clock last night after a session lasting three days. The convocation was well attended and the proceedings marked by enthusiasm. Those who took part in the deliberations of the body freely expressed the opinion that the convention just closed was the best and most profitable in the history of the organization. The visitors are lavishly in praise of the efforts put forward by the local committee of arrangements and entertainment and speak in the highest terms of the generous hospitality and cordiality of the welcome extended by the Christian men and women of Butte.

The morning session was partly devoted to the election of officers and the transaction of other business. Following are the association officers chosen for the ensuing year: President, Rev. A. P. Peck of Anaconda; secretary and treasurer, W. R. Connor of Helena; superintendent of normal department, Rev. W. S. Bell of Helena; vice president of the international convention, Rev. D. B. Price of Hamilton; member of the international executive committee, E. E. Sharpe of Helena. The association executive committee was increased to seven members by the election of Prof. A. C. Newell of Butte. The two retiring members, E. Sharpe and J. W. Wade, both of Helena, were elected for the term of three years. The committee as now composed is as follows: Rev. W. S. Bell, chairman; Rev. S. B. Tabor, E. S. Scharnikoff, Peter Winne, E. Sharpe, J. W. Wade and A. C. Newell. From the treasurer's report it appeared that the association receipts for the past year had been $97.53 and the disbursements $106.35.

The time and place for holding the next annual convention was left to be filled by the executive committee, who will receive invitations and report later to President Peck. An urgent invitation was received from Great Falls and it is likely that that city will be selected.

County pledges for carrying on the state work during the ensuing year were secured to the amount of $25 and it is the purpose of the association to employ Rev. W. S. Bell of Helena as the Montana field worker. He will sustain the same relation to the state association as Prof. H. M. Hamill of Chicago does to the national organization.

E. Sharpe of Helena presented, in a very interesting and entertaining manner, the subject of international and state work. Prof. H. M. Hamill talked instructively about normal training and Rev. C. L. Jackson gave an eloquent exhortation on Bible study.

Miss Isadora Dowden, superintendent of the Montana Children's Home society, with headquarters in Helena, was introduced to the audience and told in an interesting manner about the aims and objects of the society and the work being accomplished. Mrs. E. O. Baisack of Billings read an ably prepared paper on the subject of primary teaching in the Sunday school, which was well received.

The report of the committee on enrollment showed the presence of 35 accredited delegates, representative of six denominations, divided as follows: Presbyterian, 23; Methodist, 20; M. E., South, 15; Baptist, 11; Christian, 8; Union, 2.

The following resolution introduced by Rev. Jacob Mills was favorably received and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the Montana Sunday School association, assembled in its eighth annual convention in the city of Butte, does not favor the organization of union Sunday schools within its territory save in those fields unoccupied by any denomination.

"Resolved, Further, that whenever such fields are occupied by any denomination, then said union schools are earnestly advised to become denominational schools under the care of whatever church is occupying the field.

Chairman W. S. Bell of the executive committee, submitted the following report:

"It seems very appropriate that a report of the executive committee should have a place on our convention programme; and yet such a report must consist more of a statement of what has not been accomplished, and what needs to be done, than of the story of progress actually made.

"We feel that whatever of annual interest has gathered about our annual conventions has been due to the presence with us, for three successive years, of our beloved brother Hamill. And to him also must largely be given the credit for progress made in the months between the conventions. After our gathering at Bozeman last year, Professor Hamill visited a number of the more important organizations in the state, holding meetings of great value and interest; and he comes to this convention after having held another similar series of meetings, in which Livingston, Bozeman, Helena, Great Falls, Boulder, Anaconda, Hamilton, and Missoula have been visited. The influence of these meetings, we are sure, will be apparent for many months to come, in more consecrated, and more intelligent service on the part of the Sunday school workers.

"In the matter of organization, but little progress has been made. Our worthy president, Rev. D. B. Price of Hamilton, has secured a very efficient organization in his own county. Ray, and two interesting conventions have been held. Attempts, not altogether successful, have also been made to revive the lapsed organizations in Jefferson and Beaverhead counties. County conventions have been held during the year in Missoula, Ravalli, Silver Bow, Lewis and Clarke and Gallatin counties. If any others have been held, it has not come to my knowledge. If any others have been held, it has not come to my knowledge. The most encouraging progress during the year has been made in connection with the normal department, of which a fuller account will be given in connection with the normal recognition exercises.

"That there is yet much work to be done is apparent. County organization needs to be pushed. At one time or other county organizations have been formed in more than half the counties in the state, but at least have not held conventions for one or two years. The normal work needs to be made still more prominent, not only through correspondence, and through the county conventions, but also by means of normal institutes held in the larger towns. City unions should also be formed in the more important cities. These results are not likely to be accomplished unless all some paid worker is secured who can devote the whole or a portion of his time to efforts in this direction. This is the great need of our state organization. That blessed results would follow such work faithfully done, none can doubt. Indeed this is the next forward step which we must take.

"The executive committee has held four meetings during the year. At each meeting a majority of the committee have been present, but in no case all. Too much pains cannot be taken to see that this executive committee is composed of men who have the work at heart, and who are willing, so far as possible, to give their time, thought and effort to it. The chairman of the executive committee feels that the association has been particularly fortunate during the past year in its president and secretary. President Price has made long journeys to attend meetings of the executive committee, and his counsel has been wise and helpful. Secretary Connor has been indefatigable in his work amid the many demands of an active business life.

"We are as yet but in the beginning of our work, are just beginning to comprehend its possibilities. I trust that at this convention such steps will be taken as will enable these possibilities to be more fully realized.

A paper written by Mrs. Theo. B. Harrison, teacher of music in the Helena public schools, was read by Mrs. Fisher. It treated of "Music in the Sunday School," and was as follows:

"The melody of hymn tunes, when separated from the harmony, as a rule are very simple. The chief care should be to select those for the infant classes that do not run too high or too low.

"Take the infant class by themselves and teach them a new hymn each month, being sure that the children know the words so they may understand what they are singing about. Children will not sing with heartiness and enthusiasm unless they grasp the meaning of the words. Do not have these babies sing more than two or three better-versed of each hymn, choosing those in which the subject of the hymn is well connected. Have the music lesson every Sunday and make it so pleasant that the children look forward to it with delight. Be sure and have the children sing softly, and when teaching them sing softly before them.

"The remainder of the school may be taken together, but let the class be divided into soprano, alto, tenor and bass, teachers sitting behind classes that they may overlook pupils and aid them in keeping their places and also keeping order. If one of the teachers be a reliable bass singer, place him beside boys with changed voices, in same manner alto, soprano, etc. Begin with all parts singing the air and gradually work into the various parts, separately, afterwards putting parts together. It is advisable to put music on blackboard. You can more easily command the attention and aid them in keeping their places. Do not attempt too much in one lesson, but let the lesson be regular, leading them along pleasantly and gently. You will find in your Sunday school children with a natural ability to sing. Take these children and give them an extra rehearsal a week. Call them the Sunday school choir and let them lead the Sunday school music. If this is carefully done at the end of one year these children may be transferred to the church choir. In case of their doing this immediately send another Sunday school choir to be put in training, as it is from this choir the church choir is replenished.

"I am a believer in and an advocate of congregational singing. I have tried this plan with most excellent results. Be careful in the selection of the music. By that I do not mean heavy and solemn, but that which is a fitting expression of the teaching of the Divine Master. I have a strong objection to the airs of secular music being joined to religious words, for the reason that the sacredness of the words is thus destroyed. Music is a civilizing influence. It is the handmaid of religion. These two influences have raised thousands to happier and better lives. Music will reach the heart better than a fine sermon. Let us have more of it in our Sunday schools.

At the close of the afternoon session the delegates from Deer Lodge county met and organized a county association. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. N. Wright, Anaconda; first vice president, N. P. Evans, Deer Lodge; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Bell, Deer Lodge; executive committee, E. Scharnikoff, Deer Lodge; E. E. Sharpe, Anaconda; Mrs. Benjamin Ross, Presbyterian church, Deer Lodge; E. E. Howe, Baptist church, Anaconda; Douglas Lawson, Presbyterian church, Anaconda.

The place and time of meeting of the first county convention was fixed for Anaconda Thursday, Sept. 2, 1897.

The convention closed with an evening session at the Auditorium, which consisted of a song service, an eloquent address by Prof. H. M. Hamill of Chicago and a platform meeting consisting of three-minute talks by Revs. Patterson, Clark, Bell and ex-Governor J. E. Rickards.

A pleasing feature of the session were the solos rendered by Richard Williams, the singing evangelist of Centerville.

The committee on resolutions, consisting of Bernard Pos, W. S. Bell and E. Sharpe, presented the following, which was adopted by a rising vote:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are hereby extended to the retiring president, Rev. P. B. Price, for his able leadership, to Prof. H. M. Hamill for his words of wisdom and inspiration, to Rev. C. L. Jackson for his able Bible exposition, and to the pastors and laymen of Butte who have so heartily and unitedly labored to make the convention a success.

"Resolved, That we recognize, with gratitude, the progress made in normal work during the past year under the efficient leadership of our normal superintendent, Rev. W. S. Bell, and become more earnestly engaged in efforts to secure a normal class auxiliary to the Montana state normal department in each of our schools.

"Resolved, That we extend our hearty thanks to the patrons and officers of the First Baptist church and the Shortridge Memorial Christian church for the hospitality of their church houses and to the mayor of Butte for the use of the Auditorium.

"Resolved, That we appreciate the courtesies extended by the press of the city and the valuable aid which they have rendered toward the success of the convention.

"Resolved, That we gratefully acknowledge the pleasure afforded through the excursion given by the electric street car company.

"Resolved, That much of the success of this convention is due to the untiring efforts of William Bartie, chairman of the committee on entertainment and those associated with him, and that words fail to express our appreciation of the warm welcome and unstinted hospitality of the citizens of Butte.

"Resolved, That our thanks are due to the organist and choir for the excellent music furnished.

committee may see their way clear to its acceptance.

Resolved, That we have listened, with pleasure, to Miss Isadora Dowden in her presentation of the cause of the Children's Home society and heartily commend her and her work to the constituency of the association. The audience then joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Professor Hamill pronounced the benediction and the convention came to a close.

IN VIRGINIA CITY.

A Fifteen-Stamp Mill to be Erected on the Bradley Mine.

Special Correspondence of the Standard. A 15-stamp mill is to be erected on the Bradley mine, at Red Bluff, by the parties who have the mine under lease and bond. Lawrence Harris, president of the Revenue Gold Mining company, is one of the main men in the enterprise, while Charles Hobbs of Chicago will have charge of the mill.

Colonel Carter has again returned to Red Bluff and is at once to renovate the old Red Bluff mill, assay office, residence, ditch, etc., and in a short time will be ready to begin operations. This property has been idle for about seven years, and the starting of it up again gives good cheer to the working men of that vicinity.

It is reported that the Mohegan mill at Red Bluff will again start in operation after a shutdown of a short duration.

Mr. Alderson's mill on the Grub Stake mine, at Red Bluff, is the only mill at the present time in operation on the Butte. This mill seems to be doing first-class work and under the skillful management of Mr. Alderson pays monthly dividends. Last week Mr. Alderson added an assay outfit and built an assay room, so that now the assay for the mill can be done at the works.

Two Road Graders.

The county commissioners yesterday made an order authorizing the survey or to purchase two road graders to be used on the county roads, the price not to exceed $1,500. The commissioners will to-day inspect some of the county roads and will also visit the poor house where they will have a room fixed and fitted, at the request of the county physician, to be used for surgical operations.

Cheap Fares.

Here is your chance. Via Great Northern railway, complete July 12th to August 31st, first class to Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Peoria, Bloomington, Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Kansas City, Atchison, Leavenworth and St. Paul. Return tickets at 50% of full fare. City ticket office 41 N. Main St.

Vigorous Kicks.

Vigorous kicks are made regarding the condition of the Park canyon road. The road was well washed out by the freshets in the spring, leaving it in a bad condition. Only two days' work has been done by the county in repairing the road this year.

Sunday Excursion to Gregory.

The B. & P. will make a rate of $1.00 for a trip from Butte to Gregory and return, every Saturday and Sunday until further notice. Tickets good going on any passenger train leaving Butte between 5:00 p. m. Saturday and 5:00 p. m. Sunday. Return tickets good between 5:45 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 o'clock Sunday night.

Salt Lake Jubilee.

On July 15 the Oregon Short Line railway will run special train to Salt Lake City, leaving Butte 7:30 a. m., arriving Salt Lake 3:45 p. m. This train will consist of the best chair car and first-class in every way. Fare round trip, $15.

HOW CHEWING GUM IS MADE.

Processes Through Which It Passes From the Tree to the Consumer's Mouth.

From the Confectioner's Journal. Four million pounds of gum, the product of the Mexican sapota tree, entered the United States during 1895. This entire product, valued at nearly $1,500,000, became the basis of chewing gum. A walk through a chewing gum factory is interesting.

Here over 1,500,000 pieces of gum are annually produced and shipped to every portion of the world. Three hundred employees are engaged in the manufacture of the gum, the first step of which is the importation of the raw rubber, which is gathered by the peons in Mexico and exported in bales containing about 150 pounds each.

The gum is taken from the bales and chopped into small pieces. These are freed from tree bark and chips by steaming and picking. Then it is ground in mills making 2,400 revolutions a minute.

The ground gum is subject to a continuous heat of 140 degrees Fahrenheit in drying rooms. From here the gum is sent to the "white-aproned cove," who adds the purest sugar and the freshest cream, granulated pepper, powdered gum or kola or other desired ingredient to it and cooks it in a steam-jacketed caldron, where it is turned and mixed by an ingenious double-acting heater or rotating paddle until it has assumed the consistency of bread dough.

Now the "dough boys" take hold of it and knead it in finely powdered sugar, passing it to the "rollers," where it is rolled between steel rollers until it is of the proper thickness, when it is whisked away by the "markers."

The markers are steel-knived rollers which leave their impress upon the long sheets of appetizing gum before it goes to the seasoning room, after which it is broken on the lines laid by the markers. New gum finds its way to the wrapping room. The nimble fingers of 150 dainty maidens are here at play. Under their deft touch waxed paper, tinfoil and pretty wrappers envelop the gum quick as a wink, and in another moment the packers have the gum to place in jars or boxes, wherein it is shipped for sale to the general public.

Admires Her Frankness.

From The Chicago Times-Herald. A woman in Cleveland has applied for a divorce on the ground that she "wants to marry somebody else." This is not an unusual cause for divorce, but the frankness with which it is expressed certainly is unique.

BEFORE JUDGE LINDSAY

Both Boston & Montana and the Ore Company Enjoined.

PRELUDE TO A BIG FIGHT

The Trouble Over the Ditch Leads Up to a Suit Involving the Title to the Elk Park Water—Taken Under Advisement.

From 10 o'clock yesterday morning until after 5 o'clock in the evening, Judge Lindsay listened to the troubles of the Montana Ore Purchasing company and the Boston & Montana, which grew out of a question of rights on the part of the former to run a 1,400 foot ditch over the latter's land, without the latter's assent, and without much as asking leave. Each company secured a temporary injunction against the other one to restrain from building the ditch and constructing a dam and the other to be kept from destroying the ditch.

In the case of the M. O. P. Co. against the Boston & Montana and others, the defendant yesterday filed an answer denying that the Montana Ore Purchasing company was ever entitled to the possession of the ground described in its complaint, or that it had a right to occupy the right of way of the Northern Pacific spur line. Every other allegation in the complaint was also denied, and the defendant specifically alleged that the Northern Pacific right of way referred to was obtained from the Butte & Boston company and that in granting the right of way the mining company reserved the right to use all the ground for buildings and structures which it might see fit to place thereon. In pursuance of its right it constructed a water way under the railroad embankment, and subsequently the Northern Pacific on the Montana Ore Purchasing company, without right, removed the boxes placed in the ditch and destroyed the right-of-way to conduct water under the embankment. It was for the purpose of restoring the boxes that the defendants were excavating upon the embankment at the time complained of by the plaintiffs and were not undertaking to destroy or injure the embankment or prevent the storing of water on the premises. The defendants claim to have a good right to restore the drain and that the plaintiff has no right to the embankment, and the railroad company, if it has undertaken to convey such right to the plaintiff, could not do so for the reason that no such right was given to the railroad company by the Butte & Boston.

It was agreed among the attorneys that the case of the Montana Ore Purchasing company against the Boston & Montana company should be taken up first and that the decision as to it should also decide the other. John F. Peck appeared for the plaintiffs and J. J. McElhatton for the defendant. The proceedings soon developed the fact that the fight was over the water ditch and dam was merely a prelude to a bigger fight that was to come over the right of way of the water park canyon which long ago were appropriated by the Boston & Montana company. The Montana Ore Purchasing company has lately been very short of water and has had to use the same water over and over again at the smelter. Not long ago it located some of the Elk park water and it was to connect with it that the ditch over which the trouble arose was constructed. The M. O. P. company has a lease on some ground for the purpose of storing tailings and water if necessary and the defense in the case yesterday was that a ditch right necessarily went with the lease for a dam site, but the Boston & Montana argued that a ditch right could only be obtained by a regular course of condemnation proceedings. A civil engineer named Pennington, and C. S. Batterman and R. T. White testified for the B. & M. and their testimony showed that the M. O. P. company put a force of men to work on the ditch at 3 o'clock in the morning and that when the B. & M. learned of it they put another force of men to work, and in less than an hour had the ditch covered up again.

William A. Kidney testified for the M. O. P. company and told about that company's great need of water. In the arguments the attorneys cited great quantities of law and at their conclusion the court took the matter under advisement.

His Uncle's Longest Day.

There was in those days a serious-minded Irish member named Blake (not to be confused with the ex-premier of Canada) sitting member for South Dublin. He is remembered for a brief correspondence he read to the delighted house. It was introduced in a speech delivered in debate on the Irish Sunday closing bill. Mr. Blake had, he confidentially informed the house, an uncle who regularly took six tumbler of whiskey toddy daily. This troubled him, and after much thought he resolved to write and remonstrate with his relative. The following was the letter:

"My Dear Uncle: I write to say how pleased I should be if you could see your way to giving up your six glasses of whiskey a day. I am sure you would find many advantages in doing so, the greatest of which would be that, as I am persuaded, it would be the means of lengthening your days."

"My uncle replied: 'I am much obliged to you for your dutiful letter. I was so much struck by what you said, and, in particular, by your kind wish to lengthen my days, that, yesterday, I gave up the whiskey. I believe you are right, my boy, as to my days being lengthened, for, indeed! it was the longest day I ever remember.'—From 'The Queen's Parliament,' by H. W. Lucy, in North American Review for July.
